A MESSAGE FROM THE CAPA BOARD PRESIDENT

Dear Friends,

More than ever, we are so thankful that you are joining us for CAPA's 8th season of musical theatre summer camps! Each summer we produce three camp productions geared to children of all ages. Last year we really missed performing...and we missed you! CAPA's programs are designed to engage young people in the appreciation of theatre arts; gaining confidence and performance experience. It's really hard to do when we can't meet in person. Like many organizations, we pivoted and offered virtual lessons and programming but it's just not the same...especially with masks! Thankfully, we are back onstage this summer, and by the new school year, we hope to resume offering community outreach in addition to after school arts education programming in the school environment.

CAPA wishes to show its deepest appreciation for the generous support of those individuals, business and philanthropic community members who donated to the "Keep The Stage Lights Bright" campaign. These gifts helped us keep the lights on and we hope to be back in full gear with CAPA programming and to continue our mission to make music and theatre education an integral part of learning for children. We hope this summer experience inspires your children to have a lifelong love of music and the arts!

As a non-profit organization, volunteers are vital to our organization. If you have talents and a passion for the arts - and an interest in working with a great group of people - please email Susan@Cincinnatiapa.org.

Sit back and enjoy the show!

With Sincere Thanks,

Susan Peskin - President, Board of Trustees
Robin Schwanekamp - Executive Director

A MESSAGE FROM THE ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

Dear CAPA Families,

I am honored to welcome you to the 8th season of summer camp. I couldn't be more thrilled to be back making live theatre again. The past 15 months have taught us the importance of human contact and have only increased the value of the arts.

While it has never been more challenging to make theatre, it has never been easier to make the case for theatre. From a school play to Broadway, the same basic human need is being fulfilled: to share the experience of something being created. We have to be there, because we are creating it together: when the magic happens, our hearts and minds combine to create an experience that is a million miles away from that of watching a movie, still less a live stream of a play, however well done.

This year has taught us how valuable theatre is and also how vulnerable it is. As theatre artists and educators, we try to be ready for anything. But how does one prepare to have a whole season wiped out? Being back this summer and watching the students grow and build a family over the course of the camp has been extremely special. CAPA's summer camps are a true collaboration where students and professionals build a place that nurtures and promotes the power of the arts. Bringing students together, through theatre, helps to strengthen our community. We experience our shared humanity through the timeless stories and music of these beloved musicals on and off stage. This experience and time to create was greatly missed last year.

I will be forever thankful that we have been able to be back creating live theatre again this year and for the generous support of all the CAPA families during this difficult time for the arts. These amazing students never fail to inspire me with their talent, optimism, and hope for the future.

ENJOY THE SHOW!
